“Money Matters for Seniors : An Interactive Video Workshop”

Developed by B.C. CEAS, this interactive video workshop:

- Shows how to avoid financial abuse (often by family, friends or caregivers)
- Shows how to protect your money, property and independence as a senior
- Presents potential scenarios of seniors at risk of financial abuse
- Introduces sources for support and information in the form of financial institutions, banks, credit unions and trust companies

The video challenges seniors and financial institutions to work collaboratively to maintain the seniors' financial independence. This package includes the video, instructions for facilitators of seniors' groups, or instructions for facilitators of groups for staff of financial institutions. The script was developed from stories British Columbia seniors told the B.C.CEAS Task Force on Financial Abuse.

- ❖ Funded by Status of Women Canada. Population Health, Health Canada, financially supported the video project.

Cost: $30.00 (for seniors' groups); $35.00 (financial institutions)
Shipping and handling charges: CDN.$20.00 Outside CND.$60.00
